Overview

ESMAP is supporting developing countries in deploying energy storage through providing access to concessional finance, technical assistance, and addressing key knowledge gaps through an international Energy Storage Partnership (ESP).

ESMAP is supporting developing countries in deploying energy storage through providing access to concessional finance, technical assistance, and addressing key knowledge gaps through an international Energy Storage Partnership (ESP).

To integrate variable renewable energy resources into grids, energy storage is key. Energy storage allows for the increased use of wind and solar power, which can not only increase access to power in developing countries, but also increase the resilience of energy systems, improve grid reliability.

CATL has signed four cooperation agreements with developers, Quinbrook, SPIC, CRRC Zhuzhou Institute and Tianchen Energy Technology for CATL's BESS (Battery Energy Stationary Storage) products to be deployed across China and globally. On the 7th of November, CATL and Quinbrook signed a Global.

If you're reading this, you're likely part of the 73% of energy professionals who believe collaboration is the missing puzzle piece in scaling up energy storage solutions [1]. Our target audience includes: Why Partner Up?

The $33 Billion Question [1] Let's face it - developing energy storage.

On September 9, 2025, at the RE+ 2025 exhibition, Hithium and New York-based energy company Microgrid Networks LLC (MGN) signed a strategic cooperation agreement to deploy 10 energy storage projects in New York City, with a total capacity of 55MW/290MWh. This collaboration marks Hithium's first.

New capabilities to accelerate the development and validation of new LDES technologies and beyond 5 .

China, which already boasts the world's largest energy-storage capacity, is set to nearly double that level by 2027, with an anticipated investment of 250 billion yuan (US$35 billion), according to Beijing's latest action plan. As outlined in the action plan, China's "new-energy storage system". How does ESMAP support developing countries in deploying energy storage?

ESMAP is supporting developing countries in deploying energy storage through providing access to concessional finance, technical assistance, and addressing key knowledge gaps through an international Energy Storage Partnership (ESP).

How can energy storage technologies address China's flexibility challenge in the power grid?

The large-scale development of energy storage technologies will address China's flexibility challenge in the power grid, enabling the high penetration of renewable sources. This article intends to fill the existing research gap in energy storage technologies through the lens of policy and finance.

How many energy storage projects were approved in 2021?

In 2021, there were 136 approved energy storage projects, comprising 131 electrochemical and 5 pumped hydro storage projects.

Could joint development of energy storage supply chains improve technology innovation?

The joint development of energy storage supply chains in BRI countries is a win-win solution, which could improve technological innovation capacities of Chinese companies, and host countries may benefit from value-added green manufacturing growth.

What is a cost-reduction target for energy storage?

A cost-reduction target was introduced to lower the system cost per unit of electrochemical energy storage by at least 30% by 2025, as outlined in the 14th FYP on Energy Storage Development . China's energy storage capacity accounted for 22% of global installed capacity, reaching 46.1 GW in 2021 .

Could CDB and ngdf jointly prepare a pipeline of energy storage projects?

CDB and NGDF could jointly prepare for a pipeline of energy storage projects that can be securitized with the support of the public sector for regulatory enforcement and inspections.
