Overview

How big is China's energy storage capacity?

According to CNESA data, the capacity of independent energy storage stations planned or under construction in China in the first half of 2022 was 45.3GW, accounting for over 80% of all new energy storage projects planned or under construction.

Can China scale up energy storage investments?

This study explores the challenges and opportunities of China's domestic and international roles in scaling up energy storage investments. China aims to increase its share of primary energy from renewable energy sources from 16.6% in 2021 to 25% by 2030, as outlined in the nationally determined contribution .

Could joint development of energy storage supply chains improve technology innovation?

The joint development of energy storage supply chains in BRI countries is a win-win solution, which could improve technological innovation capacities of Chinese companies, and host countries may benefit from value-added green manufacturing growth.

Which energy storage technology is most widely used in China?

Of these, 39.8 GW is used in pumped-storage hydropower (PSH), which is the most widely used storage technology. The share of novel energy storage technologies represents only 12.5% of the total installed capacity in China, where electrochemical storage is the most technically viable technology, followed by fast-growing compressed-air storage.

How much money did energy storage companies raise in 2022?

In 2022, they accounted for 90% of global energy storage-related fundraising deals (China for 46%, the US for 31%, and Europe for 13% respectively), raising USD 2.9 billion, USD 2 billion, and USD 800 million, respectively (Figure.

Why are energy storage technologies important?

They are also strategically important for international competition. KPMG China and the Electric Transportation & Energy Storage Association of the China Electricity Council ('CEC') released the New Energy Storage Technologies Empower Energy Transition report at the 2023 China International Energy Storage Conference.
