Longi has reportedly acquired a stake in Suzhou Jingkong Energy, signaling a strategic push into energy storage amid rising profit pressures and heightened competition in the solar sector. From ESS News Longi Green Energy, China's largest vertically integrated solar manufacturer, has been linked.

LONGi, the Chinese solar giant, has demonstrated significant advancements in energy storage batteries through several key initiatives. 1. Recent innovations have propelled LONGi into a competitive position in the global energy storage market, 2. Their integration of solar technology with battery.

While Longi Green Energy (隆基) has dominated solar manufacturing with its monocrystalline silicon revolution, their recent $700 million energy storage investment signals a game-changing shift [1] [4]. But why now?

The answer lies in the numbers: global energy storage capacity needs to grow 15-fold.

By optimizing the actual load demand, integrating power supply and grid resources, taking advanced technologies such as flexible energy storage and innovation of system and mechanism as the support, and regarding "safety, green and high efficiency" as targets, to innovate the power production and.
