

Overview

Construction is expected to start in 2026, with operations beginning in 2027. Estimated to cost $750 million, it will provide four hours of energy storage, according to a release. What does Bess stand for?

Bath Energy Storage Corporation (the “Proponent”), a subsidiary of Northland Power Inc., is developing a Battery Energy Storage System (BESS) project (the “Project”) in Loyalist Township in response to the LT2 RFP issued by the Government of Ontario through the IESO.

When will IESO announce successful bidders?

It is anticipated that the IESO will announce successful bidders in June 2026. Lennox Battery Energy Storage Inc. will be hosting an Open House on September 4, 2025 at South Fredericksburg Community Centre, 2478 County Road 8, Greater Napanee, Ontario. Boralex previously hosted an Open House for the Lennox BESS project in September 2023.

How much storage capacity will Ontario IESO have in 2027?

Through the two RfPs, Ontario IESO had anticipated the procurement of between 1,500MW and 2,500MW of storage of a total 4,000MW new capacity, but factoring in LT-1, ELT-1 and the Oneida project, the province secured 2,915MW of storage resources. LT-1 projects will start coming online in 2027.

Which IESO projects have been closed in 2024?

That included the late 2024 financial close on Canada’s biggest committed BESS project to date, the 300MW/1,200MWh Hagersville Battery Energy Storage Park by Boralex and Six Nations of the Grand River Development Corporation. Ontario IESO has also held a second RfP, Long-Term 1 (LT1 RFP).

How many megawatts will IESO build by 2026?

In a procurement round in May 2023, the IESO contracted out 739 megawatts of BESS projects by 2026. According to the IESO, Ontario’s BESS fleet will consist of 26 facilities totalling 2,916 megawatts of capacity by 2028, across the two procurements and the 250-megawatt Onedia facility, expected to be complete in 2025.

How much money does NRStor's Bess project generate?

While the CA$800 million (US$558.57 million) project has received some financial backing from government schemes, NRStor chief development officer Jason Rioux told ESN Premium in a May 2023 interview that the BESS will generate revenues from a mix of long-term contracting and merchant markets (Premium access).
