The Dominican Republic has launched a tender for up to 600 MW of solar and wind capacity, requiring projects to include at least four hours of battery storage to support stability in the National Interconnected Electric System (SENI). From ESS News The Superintendency of Electricity (SIE) has.

- The Superintendency of Electricity (SIE) approved Resolution SIE-092-2025-LCE, which sets the technical and regulatory basis for a new national public tender to add up to 600 megawatts (MW) of solar and wind generation capacity. Under the resolution, the awarded energy will be contracted.

EGE Haina has received approval for a 100 MW renewable energy project in the Dominican Republic, comprising a wind farm in Valverde province and a solar farm in San Cristóbal province. This initiative supports EGE Haina's goal to reach 1,000 MW from renewable sources by 2030. Source: Renewables Now.

The ambition will be kicked off by a clean energy tender this year which the government is working on. Joel Santos, minister of energy and mines in the Dominican Republic, announced a goal of 300 MW of battery energy storage systems (BESS) by 2027 during a speech at a Caribbean energy forum. Santos.

During the "Energy Sector Reform" Forum organized by the Dominican Association of the Electric Industry (ADIE) and the Technological Institute of Santo Domingo (INTEC), Edward Veras, executive director of the National Energy Commission (CNE), emphasized the Dominican Republic's progress in energy.

Spanish renewables company ACCIONA Energía and Grupo País are collaborating on a 63.35 MW solar project in the Dominican Republic.
