

Wholesale VRFB energy storage price list in South Africa

Overview

What does VRFB stand for?

* Early stage potential from South African customers, as part of the expected 30GWh deployment of BESS across South Africa over the next 10 years. The Vanadium Redox Flow Battery (VRFB) is the simplest and most widely deployed flow battery.

What is VRFB technology?

Over its 20+ year lifespan, VRFB technology offers the lowest cost per kWh stored (LCOE). The working fluid of the battery is water based and as such is totally non flammable. The vanadium chemistry of the battery is fully reusable and recyclable at the end of project life.

What is the difference between a VRFB and a rental / leasing?

Whereas, historically, VRFBs have been purchased with the vanadium electrolyte, rental / leasing would allow Bushveld Energy, or a special purpose company, to retain ownership of electrolyte and rent it to the VRFB users or buyers.

What services does Bushveld energy offer?

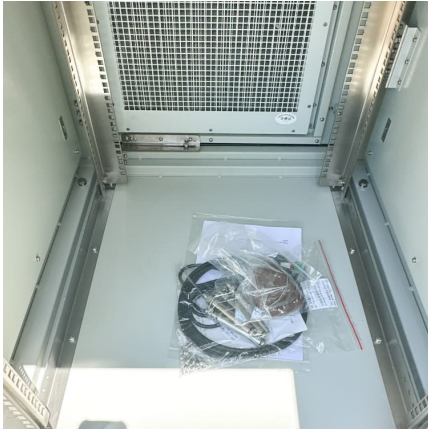

The main services offered by Bushveld Energy are: This service line supports project developers and end-users to develop an understanding of the battery energy storage sector, specifically focusing on vanadium redox flow batteries (VRFBs). The service line delivers on technical due diligence, including permitting and environmental optimisation.

How long does a VRFB system last?

The performance of the system remains constant throughout its life with minimal maintenance. Over its 20+ year lifespan, VRFB technology offers the lowest cost per kWh stored (LCOE).
